Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 7, 9-18 and 28-44 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-21 of U.S. Patent No. 6,001,307. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both are directed to a device for collecting a sample having a suction pressure generator, an analytical region and a bypass channel with the relationship of flow resistance $(X) < (Y) < (Z)$.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 7, 9, 10, 12-18, 28, 30, 32-33, 38-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Qureshi (USP 4,624,928).

Art Unit: 1743

Qureshi teach a device for collecting and analyzing a fluid sample. The device has a main body, a vacuum means and numerous channels in communication with the analyzing portion, reagents and the sample inlet. Valves are taught to control the flow and have been read on the claimed stoppers. Qureshi whose device is operated/manipulated by hand and could be discarded after a single use meets the limitations of "a main body dimensioned to be manipulated by hand" and "discarded after a single use".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 11,29,31,34-37 and 43-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Qureshi.

See Qureshi (USP 4,624,928) supra.

Qureshi is silent to the relative pressures and dimensions of the device.

Art Unit: 1743

The court decided In re Boesch (205 USPQ 215) that optimization of a result effective variable is ordinarily within the skill of the art. A result effective variable is read as a variable having predictable and expected results. Changes in relative pressures of the various branches of a fluid system is a result effective variable having the well-known and expected result of efficient fluid management. Additionally, it is known to manipulate the size of the device to gain the advantage of requiring more or less space.

It would have been within the skill of the art to modify Qureshi to have the claimed relative pressure relationship and size as optimization of a result effective variable.
